Reitzel

The earliest known facts of the Reitzels who came to America from Germany has been handed down in the following tradition:

The ancestor, Adam Reitzel a Baron in Germany, was the father of Adam Reitzel II, who, with his wife, Peggy, and little son, Adam Reitzel III, started to America about the year 1755. Adam Reitzel III was born about 1751 near the Rhine River in Germany, and was buried at a little church near Liberty, North Carolina.

There is a story that Adam Reitzel II worked on the boat for the passage of himself and family. During a storm at sea he was sent up into the rigging of the ship, and by being inexperienced fell overboard and was lost at sea. His wife and child were brought on to their port, where the services of the wife were sold at auction for so long a time, for so much tobacco, to pay the balance of their fare from the time the father fell overboard. The wife, after serving her time, took her child, Adam III, and started for her people on foot. Tired and discouraged she abandoned the child once or twice by the wayside, but repenting she returned and took him and continued her journey to her people in Guilford County, North Carolina.

It has been said that they came from Germany to Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and went by boat from there to Charleston, South Carolina, as there are accounts of other German immigrants taking that route to reach North Carolina.

Albert Emmet Reitzel, born April 1, 1883, in Alamance County, North Carolina, has a book in Danish giving the family tree of the descendants in Germany and Denmark of Johannes Reitzel and including a son or grandson, Johannes Adam, a baron. It is interesting also that the crest of that family is the same as the crest known of our family in North Carolina as the Reitzel Crest. It is also shown in the old book "Siebenthal's Two Thousand Leading German Families" a book in the Congressional Library at Washington, D.C.

The herewith Coat of Arms is the "REITZEL" Armoral of origional Grant, dating from the first Crusade, A. D. 1096, in which it Was first borne by a Sir Knight Crusader of this name.

The armoral is shown in the famous Compilation (54 volumes) entitled "Grosses Und Allegemines Wappenbach" von J. Siebmacher, Enthaltend Zwei Tousand Historisch Begründete Familien Wappen. Nurnberg, 1857 (great and General Book of Coats of Arms by J. Siebmacher containing Two Thousand Historically Authenicated Coats of Arms of Historic Families. Nurnberg 1857)

It is also shown in Volume 5, Part 8, Page 70, and is described thus:

"In G. Ans gr Bodin ein Eichbaum vov dresem ein laufender R. Hirsch mit G. Hel Jagdfalke mit lederner." feder geschmuckter kappe auf Kopfe. Decken und Binde.gr.g.

At the time of the Crusade, the Princes and Knights were obliged to adopt various devices or emblems by which they and their commands could be recognized.

It is to the time of the earlier crusades that we can ascribe the establishment of armoral bearings in their present form when the necessity of quickly recognizing each of the numerous leaders seem to have compelled the princes and knights to adopt a methodical arrangement of various distinguishing devices borne on surcoat and banner, and soon after on the shield.

The "REITZELS" are of German extraction. The first "REITZEL" of any record was one Johannes "REITZEL" who came after the thirty year way to Habitzhein (Grossberz heim. Grossberg Hessen) on March 4th, 1682.

Also, I am sending to you a copy in English of the first few pages of a Reitzel family tree sent to me about six years ago by Poul V. Reitzel, Soll Colle, Rungsted, Kyst, Denmark, Europe. I had the English translation made here in Philadelphia by a competent translator. Poul Reitzel is descended from the Benjamin Reitzel who is shown in this translation as the son of Johann Adam Christian Reitzel and is the only child shown, but it is not stated that that Johann Adam Christian Reitzel had no other children. That is the only Reitzel of whom there is any information he was a Baron. For that reason it is interesting to note that one of his names is Adam, and it is possible that he had a son Adam who was the father of the boy, Adam Reitzel, who came to North Carolina between 1750 and 1755. The names among the sons of the first Johannes Reitzel are Johannes Reitzel, Peter, Adam, Christian, and those names appear in the early generations of the Reitzels in North Carolina, and among the Reitzel women in North Carolina appears the name Margaret just as the first Reitzel woman to come to that State was named, and it will be noted that that first Benjamin Ritzel mentioned in this translation herewith had a daughter Margaret. It is too bad that at this time it is impossible to make inquiries abroad as to what children other than Benjamin were born to Johann Adam Christian Reitzel. The story of the Indiana Reitzels that the Reitzel who first came to North Carolina was later married three times agrees with the story in North Carolina. I think she married first a Kime, then a Staley, a Grower, and then a man with a name something like Murtoff, and I also heard that she married a Coble. All those families have been in North Carolina and they are related to the Reitzels, but there are no descendants, if there ever any in North Carolina, by the name of Murtoff. Kime and Staley were originally spelled in North Carolina Keim and Stehle.

I have heard some stories in North Carolina that the Reitzel woman came from some point near Bingen-on-the-Rhine. There are also some records in Pennsylvania that some of the Reitzels in that State came from a point near that town on the Rhine.

No doubt you have heard of the book "A Collection of 30,000 Names of Immigrants to Pennsylvania" by I. Daniel Rupp, published in Philadelphia 1876. The book says, as to Reitzels who came to Philadelphia and Pennsylvania--

SLAEGTERNE
REITZEL OG REITZEL-NIELSEN

SAMLET OG TRYKT SOM MANUSKRIPT FOR FAMILIEN
AF POUL REITZEL

KOBENHAVN 1921.

DA afd ode Boghandler C. A. Reitzel for Aar tilbage talte med mig om at samlö Familiens Stamtvale, strandede det paa, at vi ikke vär i Stand til at folge Slaegten laengere tilbage end til Benjamin Reitzel - samt at der ikke inden for Slaegten syntes at vaere nogen Interesse for Sagen. Begge Dele har imidlertid forandret sig, idet jeg under en Rejse i Tyskland 1910 aflagde Besog hos nu afdöde grosshertzl. Rechnungsrath Hans Reitzel i Darmstadt. Han stillede sine interessante Familieoptegnelser til min Raadighed og det lykkedes os i Forening at finde Slaegten tilbage til 1621. Slaegten stammer fra Flaekken HABITZHEIM i Baden, hvor Slaegtens Stamfader var Foged.

Store Maend har Slaegten vel ikke fostret - selv om Christian Reitzels Liv er Eventyret - er det ellers Arbejdets Maend där fremtraeder paa efterfolgende Sider, den har givit Landet en Raekke dygtige Boghandlere, hvis Navn saerlig er knyttet til Guldalderen S Litteratur, en Raekke Bogtrykkere og blandt Holmens faste Stok er Navnet naevnt med Aere. Trofast og redelig kan saettes som Slaegtens Devise.

Slaegtens formodede jodiske Afstamning har intet paa sig, mulig skyldes denne Tro de mange bibelske Navne.

Idet jeg da sender mine kaere Fraender dette Forsog paa at holde Tal paa den gamle Slaegt, anmoder jeg Alle om at meddele mig de Forandringer der maatte komme i Aarenes Lob, saaledes at jeg kan fortsaette dette Arbejde saalaenge jeg lever. Arbejdet har interesseret mig og jeg bringer alle som velvilligst har hjulpet mig til det foreliggende Resultat - min bedste Tak.

Dosseringen 26, den 15. Juni 1921.

Poul Reitzel

Slaegten Reitzel har sin Oprindelse fra Byen Habitzheim i Baden; hvor Slaegtens forst kendte Mand var Foged -- nemlig

JOHANNES REITZEL,

*i Habitzheim 1621 15-6, † 1621 4/3, g. 1) 1650 m. Kunigunda Hundt, dbt. 1620

10/7 † 1660 27/5, g.2) 1663 13/1 m. Margrethe Kramer, *1641 † 1696 30/9

Han havde følgende Børn:

1. Johannes Reitzel, * 1653 11/5 † 1730 3/10 (Stamfader til den i Tyskland endnu levende Gren af Slægten).
2. Johann Peter Reitzel, *1654 2/6, † 1735 7/6. (Stamfader til den i Schweitz endnu levende Gren af Slægten).
3. Agnes Reitzel, * 1656 2/2, † 1679 4/4.
4. Johann Adam Christian Reitzel, (se nedenfor).
5. Sibylle Elisabetha Reitzel, * 1664 21/4.
6. Judith Reitzel, * 1667 8/4.
7. Johannes Wendeling Reitzel, * 1677 22/5, † 1751 11/9.

4. Johann Adam Christian Reitzel, * 1650 30/9, † 1728 24/2, forte en meget omtumlet Tilværelse. Efter Traditionen løb han væk hjemmefra og lod sig hverve som Soldat. Imidlertid arbejdede han sig op gennem Rækkerne, saaledes at han ved sin Død var ostrigsk Generalmajor. Han deltog med Æreder baade i den spanske Arvefølgekrig og den tyrkiske Krig og lønnedes for sit Forhold i disse Krige af Kejser Carl VI under 1728 6/11 med Adelspatent. Denne Slægtens Adelstet er imidlertid senere - allerede med hans Søn - gaaet tabt ved ikke adeligt Ægteskab. Dog har den yngre Reitzelske Linie - ved Patent af 1915 12/9 i Forbindelse med kongelig Bevilling af 1915 17/6 - faaet Patentet fornyet.

Afskrift af det originale Patent - samt Generalens Billede, hans Sabel og Pistol opbevares ogsaa i den yngre Linie.

Det i  Patentet omtalte Vaaben beskrives saaledes: I gyldent Skjold paa grøn Jord -- et Hjørtrøe foran hvilket en -- med gyldent "Gevir prydet -- springende Hjort Løber. Paa Hyelmen en fontakket Krone, hvorfra opstaar en med fjederprydet Læ derhæ tte forsynet Jagtfalk".

Denne Jagtfalk hentyder maaske til Slægtens Navn -- idet: Reitzel, reizere, reisae" betyder ,, Lokke" -- altsaa,, Reizelvalke" Lokkefalk -- Jagtfalk.

Han var gift med Kungiunde von Bierlau zu Kratz, * 1678, † 1735 3/4. Ved Ægtefarrets Død i Sonnens Barndom kom denne til en fjærn Slægtning i Konigsberg. Denne

BENJAMIN REITZEL, *1726, † 1799 10/7 -- der er den første af Navnet her i Landet -- havde maaske Faderens Eventyrblod i Aarene -- thi han forlod som ganske ung Mand Tyskland og kom her til Landet 1741, hvor Han, for at opretholde Livet, tog Plads som Læ rerdreng hos en Handskemager i Grønnegade. Senere blev han selv Handskemagermester og havde en lille Læderfabrik. Han var gift 2 Gange:

1) 1755 15/8 m. Cathrine Elisabeth Hauberg, 1726 6/5, † 1780 10/7.
2* 1784 14/5 m. Dorthe Dorothea Weiss, *1749 3/8, † 1833 7/10. (Børn I-VII).

I. CATHRINE MARGRETHE REITZEL, dbt. 1756 8/2, † ung.

II. BENJAMIN REITZEL, dbt. 1758 18/12, † 1801 19/7 Handskemagermester, g. 1784 24/6 m. Susanne Schlipbach, *1757 1/7 † 1829 15/2. (Børn 1--9)

1. DANIEL BENJAMIN REITZEL, * 1786 30/4 † 1836, Bogtrykker, g. 1806 6/6 m. Louise Benedicte Catharina Droll, * 1798 4/9, † c. 1846 (Børn A--C)
A. CARL FREDERIK REITZEL, *1806 29/4, † 1809 24/1.

B. FREDERIKKE TOBIE REITZEL, *1808 22/2, † 1891 20/5 3/4 m. Strompeveaver Johan Carl Ferdinand Nielebock, * 1815 7/3, † 1877 12/8.
C. Louise Christine Reitzel, *1810 24/3, † spæd.

2. CARL GOTTFRED FREDERIK REITZEL, *1787 17/9, † 1788 4/5.
3. CARL EMANUEL REITZEL, * 1788 8/12, † 1819. Ugift.
4. SUSANNE CATHRINE ELISABETH REITZEL, * 1790 15/12, † 1807 5/8. Ugift.
5. GEORG GOTTFRIED REITZEL, * 1792 6/7, † 1842 16/11 i Norge, Bogtrykker, g.m. Oline Boh, * 1794 26/8, † 1862 1/10. (Born A--C).
A. HENRIETTE REITZEL, * 1815 23/7, † 1854 26/3.
B. LUDVIG FERDINAND REITZEL, * 1819 4/1. † 1906 29/7, g. 1) 1838 Trine, g. 2) m. Martha, * 1838, † 1907 21-9. (Born 1--7).

However, in 1934, a book prepared by Ralph Beaver Strasburger was published by the Pennsylvania German Society, Norristown, Pennsylvania, which gives the signatures of all the names which appear in Rupp's book of 30,000 names, both authors taking them from the declarations of allegiance which those immigrants made at Philadelphia to the King of England in connection with their landing. I have numbered the names above and those same names, given by me the same numbers as they appear in Strasburger's book, read as follows:

Friederich	Reiffel	(1)
Hans Jonas	Reiffel	(2)
Jacob	Weitzel	(3)
John Henry	Ritzel	(4)
Christian	Reutzel	(5)

So it is plain from those names as spelled from the Strasburger book from the signatures on file that it is not clear that any one of them is a "Reitzel." The name of the John Henry Ritzel is signed by mark.

There appears to be no records of arrival of passengers by ships at Charleston, South Carolina, in the eighteenth century. A compilation of such information at Philadelphia has recently been made and I will check on it soon.

The other day I had a trunk returned which I had had in storage for several years that contains considerable old genealogical matter in regard to the Reitzels, and as soon as I possibly can within the next week or so I will run through it and write you any information that I think you might not have.

I do not know whether Dr. ~~Salude~~ Claude Reitzel had written you this or not, but a number of times he has told me that when he was in Indiana, about forty years ago, he recalled seeing at the home of one of the Reitzels a very interesting little book on the family going way back into Germany. He thinks that he saw it at the home of a George Reitzel near Clifton, Indiana, some miles west of Indianapolis. However, I have written to several Reitzels in Indiana about the matter and they say it is impossible to locate such a book and that they have never heard of it. It is quite possible it had been carried to some other State by some of the descendants of the Indiana Reitzels.

With best wishes,

The REITZEL family originated from the town of HABITSHEIM in Baden, where the first known man of the family was sheriff, namely:

JOHANNES REITZEL

born in HABITSHEIM	June 15, 1621
died	March 4, 1682
first married to Kunigunda Hundt . . .	1650
baptized	July 10, 1620
died	May 27, 1660
next married on	Jany 13, 1663
to Margretha Kramer
born	1641
died	Sept.30, 1696

He had children as follows:

1 - Johannes Reitzel, born Mar. 11, 1653, died Oct.3, 1730 (Ancestor to the branch of the family, which is still residing in Germany).

2 - Johann Peter Reitzel, born June 2, 1654, died June 7,1735 (Ancestor to the branch of the family, which is still living in Switzerland).

3 - Agnes Reitzel, born Feb. 2, 1656, died Apr. 4, 1679.

4 - Johann Adam Christian Reitzel (SEE BELOW)

5 - Sibylle Elisabetha Reitzel, born April 21, 1664

6 - Judith Reitzel born Apr. 6, 1667

7 - Johannes Wendeling Reitzel, born May 22, 1677, died Sept. 11, 1731.

4 - Johann Adam Christian Reitzel, born Sept. 30, 1650, died Feb. 24, 1728 - had a much run around existence. According to tradition, he ran away from home and enlisted as a soldier, and worked himself up so that he at the time of his death was Major General in Austria. He participated with honor, both in the Spanish war of succession as well as in the Turkish war, and was for his conduct in these wars rewarded by Emperor Carl VI with patent of Nobility under date of Nov. 6, 1722. The right of nobility to the family was later lost, through his son, through marriage outside of nobility. The younger line of the Reitzel family has, however, through patent of Sept. 12, 1915 together with royal grant of June 17, 1915 obtained renewalof the patent.

Copy of the original patent as well as the General's picture, his sword and pistol, are also being preserved by the younger line of the family.

The Escutcheon mentioned in the patent is described thus:

"In a golden Shield on green ground is an oak tree, in front of which is running a leaping deer, ornamented with golden antlers.

On the helmet is a five-pointed crown on which is standing a hunting - falcon provided with leather hood, ornamented with feathers."

This hunting falcon may perhaps refer to the family name, as "Reitzel, reizere, reizae" means "decoy" (of "charm") hence, "Reizelvalke" - charm Falcon.

He was married to Kunglunde von Bierlau zu Krätz, born 1678, died April 3, 1755. As the couple died during the son's childhood, he came to a distant relation in Konigsberg. This born 1726, died July 10, 1799, who as the first one in this country having the name, had perhaps his father's inclination for adventure in his veins, for he left Germany while quite a young man and arrived here in 1741, where he in order to live took a job as apprentice to a glover in Green Street. Later on he himself became a master glove maker and had a small leather factory.

BENJAMIN REITZEL

He was ~~tice~~ twice married:
